Welcome to the ARTS TRAIL 2023

Our biggest ever!

The South Hams Arts Forum (SHAF) and the Arts Trail are thriving! SHAF has currently in excess of 150 members and this year sees the largest number of participating artists for the Arts Trail ever! So, plenty to see and new venues to visit!

The Arts Trail is a well-established annual event that showcases an extensive range of work created by talented local artists. It gives visitors the rare opportunity to meet artists in a variety of venues across the South Hams. You'll be able to visit artists in their own homes and studios, as well as in galleries and interesting public venues, such as Kingsbridge Market Hall, Avon Mill Café at Loddiswell and Newton Ferrers Yacht Club.

With more participating artists this year, the venues are all fairly close to one another, so it'll be easy to follow the Yellow signs with black arrows all around the South Hams from Dartington and Totnes, over to Mount Batten and Plymstock, and down to Stokenham, Kingsbridge and Thurlestone.

Visitors will be able to spend time with artists, discussing their work, with the opportunity to purchase a unique piece of art. For the first time this year, there are workshops, run by exhibiting artists, that visitors will be able to book onto (see page 5). This will be an amazing opportunity to learn new skills and be creative, with the guidance of an experienced artist. Early booking is advised as these will be popular and spaces are limited.

The 2023 Arts Trail runs from October 14th to 29th. Please check the opening days and hours of individual venues as these do vary. Contact details for each venue and artist are available in the artist's profile in the brochure. You will find a helpful chart of opening times for your convenience in page 4, and an index of artists and a map of the region on pages 34-35 of the brochure.

We invite you to follow the Trail, visit as many venues as possible and discover the latest works of your favourite artists – as well as discovering some new ones! Have a wonderful time and don't forget to stop for a delicious lunch or cream tea at one of the cafes, hotels, pubs, and restaurants advertised in the brochure. Most important of all, have FUN on this year's Arts Trail!

About SHAF Meet some of us...

The South Hams Arts Forum is a lively, actively engaged community of 150 artists and craftspeople from the South Hams. Our membership spills over the borders into Plymstock, Plympton and Torbay. SHAF enables members to meet other artists, share ideas and skills, and also learn from and collaborate with each other.

Membership of SHAF includes a number of opportunities and activities. Each member enters an Artist Profile on the SHAF website and has the opportunity to take part in a number of exhibitions. Besides the Arts Trail, members can apply for Creative Passions and Present Maker, both of which have a new home in the Cider Press Gallery at Dartington, and the Bovey Tracey Craft Festival, as well as one day events at the Yealmpton, Totnes and Kingsbridge Shows. We are currently exploring other venues to host further exhibitions.

SHAF holds quarterly meetings to network and socialise as well as sharing information and updates on developments. And above all, as a friendly and inclusive organisation it welcomes new emerging artists as well as established ones or people with more time to explore their creativity and hobby artists. Visit our website for more information on how to become a member:

SHAF tent at CRAFT FESTIVAL Bovey Tracey

SHAF exhibited at the Craft Festival 2023, once more building on last year's success, with 12 artists who displayed woodwork, ceramics, mosaics, jewellery, metal work, mixed media and textiles.

Many SHAF exhibitors at the Craft Festival are also taking part in this year's Arts Trail, amongst them Sue Burton and Steve Dooley at venue n.5, Richard Bent at n.15, Pam Neaves at n.18, Susan Luker at n.21, Shirley Flemming at n.28, Lesley Forrest at n.32 and Heather Morfett and Jane Davarian at Venue n.33. Also, taking part in his own display was Steve Robinson, n.16.

Many visiting artists expressed an interest in joining SHAF and have since become members and will be able to exhibit in our upcoming exhibitions and events.

Hannah Wisdom Textiles

Interview by Eleanor King

Hannah has found the perfect location for her textile art business in the creatively buzzing workshops adjoining a former sea-plane hangar at what was RAF Mount Batten. Dating from 1917, these hangars represent an important survival of early defensive aviation structures in the Plymouth area. It seems very fitting that Hannah's art and collage craft is a sympathetic marriage of historic navigation charts and marine or coastal motifs made from recycled fabrics.

Hannah, did you have any formal art education after leaving school?

No, this has all come from a lifetime of sewing, dress-making, quilting and embroidery. I realised I can create my own designs, and my own interpretation of the wildlife typically found around the location of the chosen charts.

You've developed a very recognisable brand.

There's a continuity achieved using admiralty maritime charts as backgrounds across all the products. The fabric marine motifs appliqued over them are quite graphic, and contrast with the fine detail of the cartography. Only recently I recognised the commercial potential of the craft.

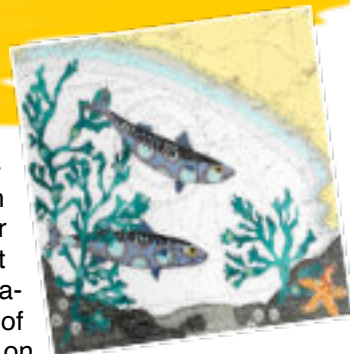

How long have you been selling this range of household products?

After doing free-motion embroidery with Jackie Gale (another SHAF member), I made a couple of embroidered pictures, the first was the Eddystone Lighthouse. I had been out in the boat with my husband, and as we bobbed around the lighthouse watching the Cormorants on a stump, drying their wings, I thought about its history and the extraordinary achievement of building such a thing on rocks out at sea. It occurred to me that human endeavour persists with engineering achievements and oceanic exploration while nature's wildlife remains a constant thread of continuity across time.

How easy is it to source the original charts?

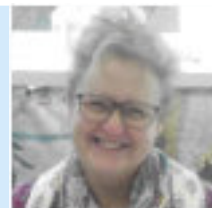

Quite easy, the Marine Biological Association gave me a huge stack after clearing out their library, including a fascinating 1920's one of Antarctica that records Scott's planned route. And then the various harbour authorities will donate old charts. I love that they are authentic, vintage, and whilst I can digitally edit out the worst of any wear and tear marks, the scanning process reproduces such an amazing quality you can hardly differentiate the prints from the originals. Over the course of building the business I've had to trial many different producers, suppliers and printers. I try to use Devon suppliers mostly, across the range of printed products, keeping the footprint to a minimum if I can.

SHAF Summer Events in 2023

This year our flagship Summer Exhibition has had a makeover!

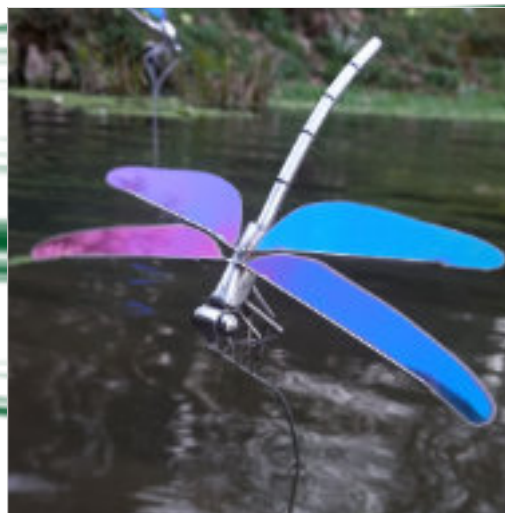

Now in its new venue, The Cider Press Gallery in Dartington, our summer show has been relaunched as Creative Passions.

This year it took place in August and displayed the work of 12 SHAF artists selected to showcase a wide range of disciplines. As always, it successfully introduced to the public the latest creations and passions at the centre of our members' work.

One Day Events

Building on the success of SHAF at the Kingsbridge Agricultural show in 2022, this year SHAF also joined the Totnes and Yealmpton shows.

These showcases allowed our artists to introduce their work to a new, larger and varied audience. These shows have now been added to the calendar permanently and SHAF has acquired its own gallery tent to display the members' works at their best.
