South Hams ARTS FORUM

Welcome

to the South Hams Arts Forum's Arts Trail 2026!

It's a pleasure to welcome you to our South Hams Arts Forum Arts Trail running from 10th to the 25th October - a vibrant celebration of creativity which threads through the towns, villages, studios, and shoreline of the South Hams.

This year you'll meet painters, printmakers, sculptors, ceramicists, and textiles artists, each opening their doors to share the stories, skills and inspirations behind their work. Whether you're discovering a hidden studio down a leafy lane, or exploring a pop-up in a bustling high street, the Arts Trail invites you to linger, ask questions, and connect with the makers who shape our cultural landscape.

A warm welcome to our new artists and brand-new Dartmouth venues joining us this year! In addition to the map and listings of venues, we have broken the Trail down into four localised "mini" Art Trails, with our favourite café and lunch recommendations (don't forget to check their opening times) for you to enjoy along the way.

Thank you for supporting our local artists. Enjoy this feast of creativity, and may you leave with fresh inspiration - and perhaps a new favourite piece to take home.

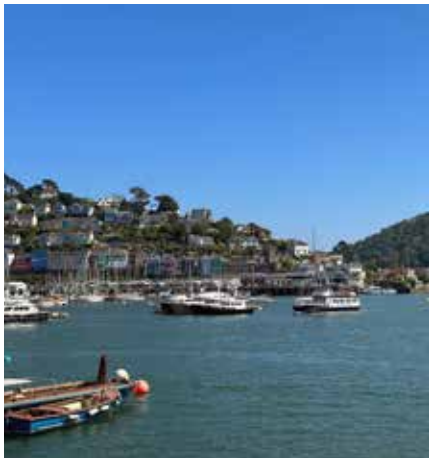
The Dart Trail

Venue 1 Venue 2 Venue 3 Venue 4 Venue 5 Venue 6



Dartmouth, photo by Matthew Heward on Unsplash

Starting at South Brent off the A38, pop in to see venue 1 and Elaine Sibley's atmospheric abstract landscapes.

Then head to Dartington, park in the main car park at Dartington Hall and stop for refreshments at the Green Table.

From there it is a short walk to venue 2 and Imogen Taylor-Nobles wonderful ceramics studio.

Drive down the hill to Totnes and turn right for the A381 towards Harbetonford. Follow the signs to Harberton and venue 3 where six artists are exhibiting at Anita Nowinska's home on the Dundridge House Estate.

Here you can find sculptures, paintings, jewellery and abstracts, all inspired by nature.

Back on the A381 a minute down the road why not pop into Nkuku for a coffee before visiting venue 4 in Harbertonford, with Lucy Behrens' amazing jewellery.

Back on the A381, head for Dartmouth and venue 5 at the Flavel centre for Julia Gash and Tal Polak, then finishing up at venue 6 for Anjeli Marsh with lovely stained glass.

And if you fancy a treat, go for a wander through Dartmouth for the best ice cream in Devon!

The Kingsbridge Trail

Venue 7 Venue 8 Venue 9 Venue 10

Kingsbridge, painting by Robert Jones

Park in the Fore Street Car Park in Kingsbridge and walk up to venue 7 at number 5 Fosse Road where you can see paintings, ceramics, fabrics, wall paper and much more produced by the Cartwright family.

Wander back to the top of Fore St and grab a coffee or breakfast in Mangetout. Continue down Fore St and pop into venue 8 at Market Hall to see the wonderful array of art and crafts by 12 talented local artists.

Continue down Fore St and after a visit to the Bakehouse for a pasty or cake, take a right at Scoops Ice cream parlour past the bookshop, then around the next bend to Venue 9 at Mercer ArtBox for an inspiring ceramic workshop.

Take a stroll along the estuary's tranquil waters and lush green surroundings then through the park on the left to venue 10, Anna Ventura's workshop at Garden Mill Studio, for some quirky illustrated ceramics.

For lunch or a drink, walk along the estuary to the Crabshell where you can sit next to the water with beautiful estuary views. It is advisable to make a booking for lunch at the Crabshell.

You could do it in the opposite direction if you park in Quay carpark.

The Coastal Trail

Venue 11 Venue 12

Hope Cove, photo by Helen Turpin

From Kingsbridge, follow the Salcombe road to Malborough. Turn right and drive through Malborough village. Follow the yellow arrows and road signs to Soar and East Soar National Trust Car Park. The entrance to Middle Soar is on the right, 50 yards past the National Trust Car Park. You will find plenty of parking at the venue, close to the house.

Six artists are exhibiting at Venue 11, covering fine art, jewellery, ceramics, mosaics and pyrography.

Middle Soar is situated just a few hundred yards from the South West Coast Path with its exhilarating views. If you would like to stretch your legs and get some refreshment after your visit, perhaps drive back to the National Trust Car Park and take a walk down to the East Soar Walkers' Hut.

Alternatively, consider stopping for lunch at the Soar Mill Cove Hotel or "33 by the Sea" at Bolberry Down. To get to Bolberry Down and Hope Cove, turn left on the road back to Malborough.

When arriving in Hope Cove, follow the road through the village and Venue 12 is at 6 Channel View Drive, on the right. After viewing Jennifer Barker's artwork, perhaps tea at the Hope and Anchor - and don't miss the art display in the Hope Cove Gallery.

The Western Trail

Venue 13 Venue 14 Venue 15 Venue 16 Venue 17 Venue 18

Start at venue 13 at Avon Mill Garden Centre in Loddiswell, for ceramics by Cally Gooding, vibrant paintings by Jenny Madhoo, light inspired paintings in oil and acrylic by Deb Rickard and printed fabrics and hand-crafted goods by Becca White. While there grab a morning coffee in the wonderful café.

Take the A379 from the Kingsbridge roundabout to Venue 14, just a mile before Modbury. Here, you can explore Sue Carr's stunning porcelain and Nuala McDonnell's realistic paintings.

Once in Modbury take a break at the Curator café before visiting venue 15, where you will find Nigel Grist's wonderfully, bright and patterned prints. Heading out of Modbury is venue 16, showing vibrant paintings by Diana Booth and tactile organic pottery by Kevin Jenkins.

A few miles onwards go to venue 17 in Ermington to see beautiful landscapes by Andrew Clayton and wildlife painting in watercolour by Christine Pascoe.

Finally, head towards Yealmbridge to venue 18 for figurative paintings and lino cuts by Naomi Hulatt, graceful raku pots by Kate Hilsley, amazing jewellery by Fiona Cocks and colourful, stunning vases by Jo Westward.

If you are feeling hungry there is Nellie's Café or the Rose and Crown in Yealmpton.

Meet Nicola Axe

Creating 3D Art in stone is a captivating process, its presence commands the physical environment through mass, volume, and negative space, I love how natural daylight shifts across the form.
By utilizing various carving and finishing techniques, I try to create tactile and visual textures that evoke emotion, movement, and conceptual ideas.

A deeply inspiring and favourite artist is Barbara Hepworth, particularly her ability to connect humanity with the landscape as well as her pioneering use of negative space-introducing light and air into solid mass-revolutionized sculptural form. Carving that first aperture through stone remains a most thrilling experience in my practice.

I have had a fascination for figurative sculpture since childhood and as a compulsive maker, I have always understood figurative and 3D forms far better than two-dimensional art. While clay initially offered joy, the immersive process and challenging nature of stone carving is what truly holds my passion.

Venue 3

Nicola Axe is exhibiting in Harberton, venue 3.
See page 13 for full address details.

I find 'art' a fairly all encompassing word - art to me is the patterns in the sand left by the tide, the colours and brushstroke of a Turner or Van Gogh, the shine of an apple in a grocery store.

Meet Kate Hilsley

I get taken in different directions with my ceramics work by what I see around me - whether carving into clay to emulate the sea's swirls, or developing glazes inspired by the electric blue of Matisse.

There are some contemporary ceramicists today who blow my mind with their creations, but from a historical perspective, for me its artists who have taken their medium in a new direction - Morris, Monet, Van Gogh - it's as much about their vision and bravery to dare to be different as their art itself. I love a good back story.

I studied textiles through school and college, and so as a child, I loved clothes and fabrics of all kinds. And I loved the ability to take something 2D and add its 3rd dimension, which I think to some degree is also what I love about clay.

Venue 18

Kate Hilsley is exhibiting in Yealmbridge, venue 18.
See page 31 for full address details.

Meet Jennifer Barker

I really will have a go at anything that grabs me. Oil, acrylic, pastel. I love colour.

I started out by copying other artists. David Hockney is my absolute favourite. Van Gogh, Cezanne, Monet too. My kitchen is plastered with 'works' as you can see!

I particularly like painting trees, possibly because I am a very keen gardener/designer. I love light and colour, again I think because of my gardening. I enjoy still lifes of fruit and vegetables. I also just enjoy playing with paint.

Venue 12

Jennifer Barker is exhibiting in Hope Cove, venue 12.

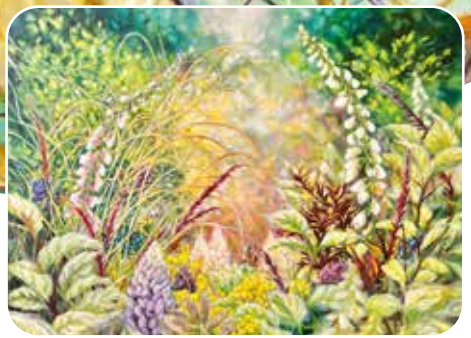
STEP INTO A WORLD OF NATURE, LIGHT & COLOUR



Set within my beautiful Georgian home overlooking the rolling Devon hills, my gallery offers visitors the chance to slow down, breathe and immerse themselves in over 300 original paintings inspired by gardens, meadows, woodlands and the ever-changing beauty of the natural world.

Many visitors describe the experience as stepping into a sanctuary. A place of calm, warmth and wellbeing where they can spend time with the paintings, wander at their own pace and simply enjoy being surrounded by beauty.

My work explores the restorative power of nature and the way colour, light and atmosphere can influence how we feel within a space. From immersive meadow and garden scenes to vibrant floral paintings filled with energy and vitality, each collection offers its own unique experience.

Whether you are looking for artwork for your home, inspiration for your own creative journey, or simply a peaceful and uplifting place to visit during the Arts Trail, you will receive a warm welcome.

I look forward to sharing my paintings, my home and a little Devon magic with you.

Vivid glazes, humour & fun with porcelain

An exciting journey into colourful porcelain ceramics can be found in a gallery up a drive with 200 year old oak trees, a pond and verdant meadows.

The illustration of high fired porcelain started in China in 618 AD. Sue Carr's modern porcelain continues this tradition using high fired glazes that Sue has developed over forty years.

Sue's illustrations and bold designs incorporate plants and animals, many quirky and some tell a short story. Over the last six years Sue has been making porcelain octopuses, some flying and even incorporated into the evolution of land animals!

Come and enjoy this unique porcelain and a welcome hot or cold drink. My gallery is open all year, although it is best to phone if you are making a special journey.

Open weekend event | 17th – 18th October

10am – 4pm with Maggie Smith and Sue Farrow-Jones

Hillcrest Studio, Goveton
TQ7 2DT

Maggie and Sue are showing their work over one weekend during the Arts Trail at Maggie's studio. All work is for sale and both artists will be on hand to discuss their printmaking techniques.

Maggie Smith is a painter and printmaker taking her inspiration from the coast, nature and the surrounding landscape . Her images are on homewares, cards and she sells her work in local galleries.

Sue Farrow-Jones is a screen printer, printmaker and water colourist. She lives and works in the South Hams. Inspired by the Natural World – the abundant wild life in her garden and the countryside and coasts of Devon she screen prints her original designs onto linen or cotton and hand makes the fabric into lampshades.

Thank you!

An incredible thank you to all the artists, supporters and art lovers out there who make this trail a success. Thank you to local businesses who support us through advertising in the brochure, and Anna at Freeway Projects who does such a wonderful job producing this brochure.

A very big thank you is due to Luke Rees (Senior Community Development Officer) and the South Hams and Devon Councillors, who generously supported us through the Sustainable Communities Locality Fund - without your help, we would have no signs and no brochures.

Last but not least, a big thank you to the committee members, who cried and laughed and toiled, giving up their time and expertise for free. You are a cracking team, hardworking and fun and I think you all deserve Knighthoods!

Together, you make the Arts Trail what it is - thank you.

Local Councillors who proudly supported us this year:

Cllr Allen
Cllr Bonham
Cllr Brazil
Cllr Dewynter
Cllr Edie
Cllr Hancock
Cllr Hawkins
Cllr Hodgson
Cllr Jackson
Cllr Lawford
Cllr Long
Cllr McKay
Cllr Munoz
Cllr Nix
Cllr O'Callaghan
Cllr Oram
Cllr Pannel
Cllr Penfold
Cllr Rake
Cllr Taylor
Cllr Thomas
Cllr Yardy

And our SHAF committee members:

Naomi Hulatt	Chair
Steve Dooley	Treasurer
Sheila Kettle	Secretary
Sue Carr	Arts Trail Coordinator

Lucy Cartwright
Robert Jones
Eleanor King
Anita Nowinska
Anna Ventura
